THERABREATH FLAVOR PLAYBOOK INNOVATION WORKSHOP

Expand what fresh can feel like.

A working session to choose the platforms and concepts worth developing next for TheraBreath.

PRESENTED BY The Flavor Factory • Princeton, NJ • Monday, November 9, 2026

— OUR GOAL FOR TODAY

Today we leave with a short list.

Innovation platforms

Territories TheraBreath could own across several launches.

Lead concepts

Tasted, scored and cleared against three checks.

Owner per test

With a named next action and a date.

- Not just inspiration. Decisions.

— THE WORKSHOP ARC

Two hours, four moves.

0:00 – 0:35

Frame

Where fresh could go

Signals, flavor culture, the white space and four platforms.

WE LEAVE WITH

A shared view of the opportunity

0:35 – 1:20

Taste

Six concepts, the whole rinse

Blind samples scored from the first second to tomorrow morning.

WE LEAVE WITH

A room score for every sample

1:20 – 1:45

Choose

Three checks

Brand fit, technical reality and consumer desire.

WE LEAVE WITH

Three concepts and two platforms

1:45 – 2:00

Assign

Owners and next steps

One owner, one action and one date for each test.

WE LEAVE WITH

The short list

THE SHELF TODAY: ONE ORANGE CAP, THREE MINTS

— THE OPPORTUNITY

The benefit is familiar. The flavor can do more.

OWNED TODAY

Trust

Gentle, effective, non-burning freshness. It stays at the center.

Character

A reason to notice the product and remember it.

THE PAYOFF

Repeat use

An experience people enjoy is one they choose again tomorrow.

Notice → Remember → Choose → Enjoy → Come back

— THE WORLD AROUND THERABREATH

What people call fresh is changing.

Beauty

Personal-care rituals

Oral care is joining the skincare shelf as one more step in a self-care routine.

SEEN IN

Layered skincare routines, bathroom “shelfies”, oral care sold beside serums.

Flavor

A broader vocabulary

People now taste yuzu, shiso and cardamom in drinks, snacks and wellness shots.

SEEN IN

Zero-proof bars, functional beverages, global menus, fine fragrance.

Sensation

Sensory proof

People want an effect they can feel and describe. That is how they know it works.

SEEN IN

Cooling skincare, tingling lip products, “you can feel it working” claims.

Trust

Everyday wellness

Products earn a place in the day: morning energy, midday reset, evening calm.

SEEN IN

Sleep and hydration rituals, adaptogen drinks, “night” versions of everything.

Flavor culture is much bigger than mint.

Twelve places reshaping what fresh can mean. A vocabulary to borrow from, not a launch list.

12 REGIONS · 4 PLATFORMS · 1 ROOM

— BORROWED VOCABULARY

What the world is teaching fresh.

Kerala

INDIA · GREEN CARDAMOM · FRESH GINGER · BLACK PEPPER

Warm spice already means a fresh mouth for millions of people.

Cardamom pods are chewed after meals as a breath freshener.

Kōchi & Kyoto

JAPAN · YUZU · SENCHA · SHISO · HINOKI

Fresh can be bright and quiet at the same time.

Citrus that reads clean rather than sweet, and green tea as a daily reset.

Marrakech

MOROCCO · FRESH MINT TEA · ROSE · ORANGE BLOSSOM

Mint can be the host, not the whole meal.

Mint is poured as hospitality, often alongside rose or orange blossom.

Grasse

FRANCE · ROSE CENTIFOLIA · GRAPEFRUIT · FIG LEAF

A rinse can be structured like a fragrance.

Perfumers build scent in layers: top, heart, base.

London

UNITED KINGDOM · AFTERNOON TEA · ZERO-PROOF BOTANICALS · TONIC

Sophisticated and alcohol-free go together. TheraBreath already is both.

Low- and no-alcohol bars made adult flavor about craft, not proof.

Copenhagen

DENMARK · SEA BUCKTHORN · BIRCH · SPRUCE TIP · COLD PLUNGE

Cooling can signal vitality, and proof.

Cold is treated as a wellness practice, not only a temperature.

— PORTFOLIO REALITY

Mint is an anchor, not the whole map.

← Familiar

Classic peppermint, cool mint. Trusted, and easy to forget.

The sweet spot

Familiar enough to trust, different enough to remember.

Exploratory →

Smoked chili cola, pickle-brine mint. Memorable once, hard to buy twice.

— THE RULE FOR EVERY IDEA

Keep one familiar cue. Change one thing people notice.

KEEP

One familiar freshness cue

Cooling, a clean finish, a thread of mint.

CHANGE

One thing people notice

A fruit, a botanical, a warmth, a moment.

Something people trust and still talk about.

CONCEPT 01 / 06

CURRENT LEAD

Polar Spark

Arctic Yuzu · Citrus, electrified by cold.

ELECTRIC · ICY · CITRUS · CLEAN · MODERN · ENERGETIC

The first breath outside on a clear winter morning, lit by citrus.

OPENING	Sharp yuzu peel, almost electric.
DEVELOPMENT	A clean cold wave builds, with no burn.
FINISH	Bright, awake, completely clean.

FORMULATION NOTE

Build the yuzu from oxidation-tolerant top notes, since citral-heavy lemon profiles fade in oxidizing rinse systems. Non-menthol cooling agents carry the cold without the burn.

PLATFORMS

New Fresh

Sensory Proof

STAY CLEAR OF

Lemon mouthwash. Snowflakes.

CONCEPT 02 / 06

● CURRENT LEAD

Glasshouse

Green Tea Cucumber · Botanical calm, poured cold.

CLEAN · BOTANICAL · SPA-LIKE · CALM · HYDRATING · EFFORTLESS

A glass of cold water in a quiet, sunlit room.

OPENING	Soft green sencha, cool and light.
DEVELOPMENT	Watery cucumber freshness settles in.

FORMULATION NOTE

Cucumber’s green notes are volatile and fragile. A quiet spearmint backbone protects the profile and keeps it reading as oral care.

PLATFORMS

New Fresh Ritual by Time

STAY CLEAR OF

Health-food store. Cucumber slices on eyes.

CONCEPT 03 / 06

● CURRENT LEAD

Live Wire

Ginger Lime · Cool lime. Hot spark.

BRIGHT · KINETIC · WARMING · CRISP · ENERGETIC · UNEXPECTED

Cold lime on the tongue, then a spark of warmth underneath.

OPENING

A zesty lime snap.

DEVELOPMENT

Ginger warmth rises under the cool.

FINISH

Crisp, energized, clean.

FORMULATION NOTE

Warmth has to read as lively, never as burn, because no-burn is the TheraBreath promise. Keep ginger's pungency well below irritation and let cooling lead.

PLATFORMS

Sensory Proof

Ritual by Time

STAY CLEAR OF

Margaritas. Anything that looks like a cocktail.

CONCEPT 04 / 06

● CONTENDER

Pink Hour

Grapefruit Rose Mint · Golden hour, in pink.

ELEVATED · AROMATIC · MODERN BOTANICAL · CITRUS FLORAL

Morning light through pink glass.

OPENING	Juicy pink grapefruit.
DEVELOPMENT	A dry, green rose heart: more stem than petal.
FINISH	Cool mint comes back to close.

FORMULATION NOTE

Use a green, geranium-leaning rose accord rather than a sweet floral. That keeps it far from soap and perfume cues.

PLATFORMS

Elevated Escape New Fresh

STAY CLEAR OF

Perfume counter. Bath soap.

CONCEPT 05 / 06

● CONTENDER

Orchard Reserve

Pear Cardamom Mint · Pear and cardamom, finished cool.

ELEGANT · LAYERED · CULINARY · PREMIUM · SOPHISTICATED

A chef's pairing, translated into freshness.

OPENING	Crisp green pear, cool.
DEVELOPMENT	Cardamom's airy, eucalyptus-like lift.
FINISH	Soft, clean spice held by mint.

FORMULATION NOTE

Cardamom naturally carries 1,8-cineole, the same cool note as eucalyptus. It is a built-in bridge between spice and mint.

PLATFORMS

Elevated Escape

STAY CLEAR OF

Holiday baking. Dessert.

CONCEPT 06 / 06

● OPEN EXPLORATION

Lights Out

Chamomile Vanilla Mint · The last rinse of the day.

CALM · EVENING · GENTLE · SOFT · COMFORTING

Lights low. The day is done.

OPENING	Gentle, soft mint.
DEVELOPMENT	Honeyed chamomile calm.
FINISH	A dry vanilla softness, still clean.

FORMULATION NOTE

Keep the vanilla dry and airy, low in sweetness, so the finish reads clean rather than dessert.

PLATFORMS

Ritual by Time

STAY CLEAR OF

Tea packaging. Candles.

— IN OUR POCKET

Three studio wildcards, if we want to push further.

ELEVATED ESCAPE

Forest Bath

HINOKI SPEARMINT

Brand Fit × Technical Reality × Consumer Desire

Does it fit the brand?

Could TheraBreath credibly own this: gentle, dentist-formulated, unmistakably clean?

Can we make it?

Will the flavor hold up in TheraBreath's oxidizing, alcohol-free system over shelf life?

Will people choose it?

Is it appealing, easy to understand, different, and something people buy again?
